

A full-page photograph of a United States Marine in dress uniform. The Marine is in profile, facing left, holding a wooden rifle. He wears a white-topped dress cap, a dark blue jacket with red piping and gold buttons, and white gloves. A sergeant's rank insignia is visible on his sleeve. In the background, other Marines in similar uniforms are visible, some with their hands raised in a salute. The setting appears to be a stadium or arena with bright lights and trees in the distance.

The United States Marine Corps Silent Drill Platoon

A line of Marine band members in dress uniform, wearing white hats and dark jackets with red accents, holding rifles. The image is dark and moody, with the text overlaid in a bright yellow font.

For more information
please call
(202) 433-6394